The water is running across the neck of the Peninsula, on the Kentucky side above the city, in a strong current, the sound of which can be heard several miles. The action of these floods is gradually wearing away the ground there. In places the soil is all gone, and the substratum of clay is worn into ruts and gullies. The action of the current in cutting across the Peninsula is slow but dangerous. Congress ought to be impressed with the necessity of taking efficient action to stop the flow of water.—Evansville Journal.

The following quotations fairly represent the market:

GARRETTSBURG, KY.

Ed. South Kentuckian:

GARRETTSBURG, KY., Feb. 5.—This chequered life of ours is made up of joys and sorrows—of pleasures and pains. The sorrows and pains, generally, greatly predominate. Why this is so in this beautiful world of ours, we do not know. The vain and futile for the futile mind to attempt any solution of the mysteries of the infinite.

Mr. Robt. Ingersoll was once asked by a distinguished theologian, what improvement he could make upon nature? He replied "I would make health contagious and not disease."

What a great preacher Mr. Ingersoll might make, were he to turn his shafts of sarcasm and ridicule against the Devil and his Angels, instead of against heaven and the Bible!

There is not a man in America I dare say, happier in his domestic relations than Mr. Ingersoll. He has a happy home around whose threshold gathers a blooming family knit together by ties of the strongest affection.

Died, on the night of Feb. 2nd, at the residence of W. B. Griffith, Mrs. Anna Ritter, in the 71st year of her age.

Mr. John Allenworth, (Mr. Miller's attentive clerk) received a telegram late yesterday evening, from Madisonville, conveying the sad intelligence of his mother's illness. He left immediately on horseback to ride through the country; said he would get home by midnight. He doubtless had a long, cold and dreary ride, rendered more dreary by anxiety. Hope when he alighted at the home of his childhood, his sadness was changed to joy by finding his mother convalescent.

Mr. W. Kinchloe blundered against a looking glass this morning; it fell on the floor, breaking into a thousand fragments. "There," he said, "I am going to have seven years' trouble." What a wonderful amount of just such popular superstitions we find prevailing at this enlightened age of the world. If a hen crows, says one, "there will be a death in the family." If we see the new moon for the first time over the left shoulder or through a slight cloud, "it is a sign of bad luck," as long as that moon shines. If a candle burns out in its socket, without being blown out, "it is a sign of the approaching death of some one in the room."

If we ride with a dogwood switch or start on our journey on Friday, "it is bad luck." There are hundreds of other equally silly superstitions, all perhaps the result of early impressions or education. The mind of the young is like a sheet of white paper, any mark or stain upon it is ineradicable.

Mr. John Moss, a worthy young citizen of Garrettsburg, took sudden flight to Clarksville a day or two ago accompanied by a blooming young daughter of Tennessee—infant—matrimony; upon reaching Clarksville, he found some little difficulty in securing the services of a preacher to tie the knot. I am told that the Presbyterian preacher told him the felt some compunctions of conscience in marrying a runaway couple and begged to be excused. After hunting up two or three divines, John at last, much to his heart's relief, found one with less tender conscience and thereupon two more souls were made happy. Long life and prosperity to you both and may you be crowned with boys, babies and blessings.

Eq. Rives had a called court yesterday; came, two sons of Africa, Gus McClendon and Richmond O'Neil were charged by Joe Fleming with hog stealing. The evidence of the witnesses developed the strange fact, that a very vicious dog had bitten his own free will and accord, said hog so severely that Richmond, through pity, thinking the pig would die anyhow took a stick and helped the vicious dog get the "hog out of its misery." Gus and Richmond then and there have a post mortem consultation and agree rather than let the "meat" "spile" they'll take it home and pay the owner for it; he should be find them out; so they carry the mangled hog to their cabin in the dark night-time, get a little uneasy, try to revive the hog by putting it in a hot bath, darning this attempt fruitless they pull the hair all most entirely off, cut said valve in four pieces, put same in a meal sack and put sack in a corn pen near by to "keep the meat cool." Constable Dixon, (accompanied by some augured deputies) gets a search warrant and spies out said bag of meat. Gus faces the music and Richmond cowardly skips out for Tennessee. Mr. D. J. Metcalf made a very eloquent and pathetic appeal to the court in behalf of defendant. All the devilment was laid on the dog. The court decided to dismiss the case with the understanding that defendant was to pay Joe Fleming $2.00 each for the pig. Haven't heard what became of the dog. What a theme for the moralist is the uncertainty of law!

We parted from an old friend, Mr. D. J. the other day, he was leaving for the distant sea.

Yet mingled in the distant sea.

TODD COUNTY.

THENTON, Feb. 7th.—Well, here we are again after an absence of several months and a half dozen years.

Trenton is moving along with about the same kind of move with which she usually moves.

Mr. Larkin Lindsay, of your city, is now stopping with us. He is the author of the following miraculous incident, and swears to it. A young man by the name of Payne, who lives in your city, (if he's not dead) had filled eggs one day for dinner. He found in the yellow of the egg, a well developed dog dick! Mr. Lindsay is a strict member of the Methodist church.

Misses Jennie Cabanias, Charlie, Goochle and Emma Dickinson went over to your city last week to hear Warle.

Henry Chiles visited your city Saturday. He is now engaged on the staff of the Western Recorder.

We have heard it gently whispered that the roads around here are just a little muddy.

Messrs. J. A. Cabanias, J. G. Center, Cord Webb, J. D. Rutherford, G. W. Yost and H. B. McChesney all went over to Elkton to rusticate, Monday.

Miss Mary Hatter, one of Clarksville's most beautiful young ladies, is visiting Mrs. Thompson near this place.

Did you hear that Jim Cabanias had a brand new boy at his home? Well he has, and has named it James Clark Cabanias. James Sr., now steps like a blind horse. "The more the merrier."

Local option will have this burg in its clutches in a few weeks. Then it will not only be dry here but it will be dusty. Then there will be a hunting after nips and a weeping and wailing on account of the spirits which have departed.

Wells White, of Louisville, has been visiting friends and relatives here some time.

We have heard on the streets, that the Rabbeth & Bacon Model Roller Mills, will soon be merged into a stock company.

The physicians here is there is quite a lot of sickness in the country and strange to say, the undertaker reports trade distressingly dull.

Dave Hord, a gay and festive Insurance Missionary of Pembroke, has been monkeying with the folks around here for the past week.

Wheat is selling here for about 78 cents. The growing crop is not looking well. The farmers are busily engaged in stripping the weed. We have heard it stated that very little of the crop has been advanced over by Commission Merchants. This is a good idea, for now the farmer will get his money in a lump and we hope to see trade improve. The indications are that a full crop of tobacco will be put in again next season and the market will be overstocked as usual.

The Democratic County Committee met at Elkton Monday to decide between Dr. R. H. Grady of our town and Judge G. Terry, of Elkton, as you may have heard they are candidates for the State Senate. Logan county has a candidate out too and the Todd County Committee were called together to decide which should run Grady or Terry. Grady was willing to leave the matter to the Committee, but Terry said nix. A convention will be held all over the county, to say which shall make the race against the Logan county man.

This evening an accidental shooting occurred on the farm of Mr. Banks, one mile west of this city. Two little negro boys aged about twelve years, were hunting rabbits. A pistol was discharged in the hands of one of the boys, the ball striking the other negro in the back of the head. The boy was brought to town and Dr. Dickinson and Runyon were called. They say the wound will probably prove fatal.

7th street, waived examination and went to jail.

A very enjoyable card party was given at the residence of Mr. Tom Jones, Tuesday night to Miss Lizzie Cox, of Bellevue.

A large light amethyst set out of a ring was lost on South Main Tuesday. A liberal reward will be paid for its return to this office.

former residence on 7th street to-day, the sale to begin at 10 o'clock. A lot a cow, some corn and coal, etc., will

The Republican County Committee held a secret session Monday afternoon, at the court house, at which it was resolved to hold precinct conventions on Saturday, Apr. 30th, to send uniformed delegates to a County Convention the first Monday in May.

A bloody fight occurred at a disreputable house on the Greenville road, just outside of the city Monday night, in which one young man was shot in the hand and another cut on the neck. A general knock-down occurred and the furniture was smashed, and the inmates fled for safety. This is only a repetition of what has frequently occurred in this den of iniquity, which should by all means be broken up.

The commission to condemn the I.
A. & T. right of way through the farms of S. H. White and R. H. H.
& J. O. McElroy, near Newstead, gave the first $196 and the others $501. An injunction was gotten out by the gentlemen, who were not satisfied with the valuations. The case is being tried in County Court this week and was submitted to a jury yesterday, who will go to the farms and inspect the lands before fixing the damages. Work has been stopped on that part of the railroad until the matter is settled.

We were informed yesterday that our Pembroke papers of last Tuesday's issue had not been delivered.
They were mailed here promptly and should have left this city on the 5 a. m. train. This is only one of the many postal irregularities that are reported almost daily and we have stood the thing until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. There is gross negligence and outrageous inefficiency somewhere and an investigation to locate it is badly needed. Our subscribers will please report all irregularities promptly until we find where the trouble lies.

The Contest.

The case of Anderson vs. Winfree has been docketed, advanced and set

SOUTH CHRISTIAN.

Gossip, News and Politics.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Feb. 10.—If either you or any of your readers have remarked that my silence has been longer than usual, I will simply say that like St. Simon Stylites, I have been "staring the gates of Heaven with batteries of prayer." In order to obtain a sufficient out-pouring of divine grace as might enable me to forgive the type as well as proof reader who so mercilessly butchered my last. I think I'll have had the gift of grace earlier but a horrid nightmare has sickened my very soul with thoughts as to what the outraged manes of Robert Burns would say to me when we clasped hands on the Stygian shore. "But I say he was a jolly man and he'd rid me of a bear." So I'll discuss the subject.

Our city has been unusually quiet since the holidays and the pulse of commerce has not been as active as our mercantile friends could wish.

The activities of unbounded material prosperity are only dormant for a while, however, and a great summit of certain plans which are being laid by a number of our local capitalists can be perfected, and then we expect such a boom as will make that of Birmingham sound like a peep. I will not try to tell you these publicly what those schemes are, but in their scope they are broader than any ever conceived by the erratic brain of Geo. Francis Train, and as feasible as any ever suggested by the wild imagination of Col. Sellers.

Articles of incorporation will be applied for in a few weeks at farthest and then you will realize what mighty agencies have been at work near you and yet I dare say their presence has not even been suspected by the shrewdest citizen of your conservative town.

The social life of our city has been gay and festive. The dance at the new hall was a splendid success.
Cupids, too, has been busy, and minor acts of several successes have been accomplished which will shortly cause Maj. Hecarath a $2.00 job.

Squire T. H. Major, who so enthusiastically sang all last fall the praises of the farm, is still with us and will remain as much to the joy of his numerous boarders as well as every third and hungry traveler who has ever had the felicity to be his guest. The Squire has been much of a merchant, but a big success as a landlord and tobaccoist. Since the dissolution of the firm of Jackson, Gussett & Major, by the withdrawal of Major, Mr. Jno. Rudolph, (who staid with us long enough last year to have a road named for him) has taken a position with the new firm, at which his numerous friends are much delighted. John is a Prince among gentlemen and an excellent among the ladies. When going out, he would prefer Jackson was out last, he told Dr. Matthews quite a sensational story. The Dr. says he don't care to tell any more tales than he can tell to his friends, but he says anybody will let him tell to them; and don't ask the Dr. to tell to you, for it isn't fit for publication, in fact it could only be published by illustration and I know you don't want to make your paper more of a picture gallery than it already is, for I don't excuse me for repeating what the boy said to the preacher it looks like a lie to me. By the way, I believe I'd be safe in the assertion that more people are reading "Gleanings" in this county at this time than ever before read one story. I used to break over a resolution to write several years ago never to read a newspaper story and am now devouring it with as much interest as a school-boy. In fact when I retire at night I sleep in a dream of the events of the day, and I read and re-read the last issue until my eyes feel with tears of sympathy and my soul weeps with the thought of how "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn." Mr. Editor don't Starch discharge Helen because Willie Warren was kissing her down at the cow-pen the other day? or the milk? or was it because she feared Warren was slipping to much of the honey? I think if I could achieve a satisfactory solution of this question I could leave the sequel of our fortunes to fate. I will wrap the drapery of my couch about me, and lie down to pleasant dreams, awaiting the issue with all the patience of a Martyr and all the patience of a Saint.

Work is progressing favorably on the I. A. & T. and we hope by the 1st of May to have the new Clarke-ville connection finished, when the road will be converted to the standard gauge. Immense numbers of ties pass here daily for the Princeton and Iron is being laid on both ends while several large squads of men are constantly employed in improving the original bed.

I am glad that Mr. Bartley has induced "S. Q. Lapham" to again disport in nigger caps, for it has a pollitized point and whether it be in the hands of Literature or the courts of Salute, it has the capacity to make its both admired and feared.

Dr. J. N. Metcalf, of Garrettsburg, after having allowed his scientific professional abilities to lapse into state of "innocuous desuetude" for several years past has again, much to the satisfaction of his friends, resumed his saddle-bags and is close attention to duty and professional skill will avail, I am confident his predilection will soon be all that he could wish.

The gubernatorial race is being discussed considerably in our city, and I find what was the Buckner boom a year ago has collapsed. It has given way to a double boom for Holt or Harless. The people are tired of seeing civic worth subordinated to military glitter, and Gen. Buckner in his aspirations will be the first victim of their resentment of a policy which has ever since the war displaced statesmanship with shoulder straps. John D. Harris, of Madison county, will be Kentucky's next governor and when he does he will extortiate our commonwealth from her difficulties and difficulties and place her on a more enviable footing than she has ever been. Mark the prediction.
Yours, etc.,
HONORE.

Mardi Gras Festivities.

The annual Mardi Gras parade, ball and festivities will take place in New Orleans Feb. 22nd, and those who have never been present in the great city during such an occasion can go this year at the reduced rate of $10.50 a round trip. Preparations are being made for a still grander display, and thousands of visitors will join in the gaiety of the Southern metropolis. Mobile also comes to the front with similar features of entertainment, for which reduced rates can be secured.

A man named Willie murdered one Willard, in Breathitt county, last week.

NORTH CHRISTIAN.

Crofton, Ky., Feb. 8.—The weather problem has been settled at last for this season. Three will go west north Tuesday. Ground-hog's day passed without shadow and now our people are jubilant, for there is not even the shadow of a doubt about our having an early spring. So spring poets had as well begin to prepare for it.

Death has again visited our town and claimed for its victim little Pearl Coombs, daughter of John Coombs.
Weep not fond parents and sister for the Pearl you loved so well on earth, for she is now a bright jewel in Heaven and looking over the battlements she beckons you on.

Col. A. H. Clark and R. W. Henry, of our city, were taking depositions in the case of Mrs. Kate Purley against her husband, Joe Purley, for divorce.
